Helping you drive national transformation

We will bring our team and the full power of our global network of accelerator programs, growth hackers, academic experts, entrepreneurs, investors and startup heroes to your country.

We will be there, for 90+ days, working side-by-side with you and your team to get your national accelerator program up and running.

We will provide you, your government, government agencies, corporate partners, startups and investors, a solid foundation for running future accelerator programs and building a national culture of entrepreneurship.

Build your own program

Our model is based on a partnership where we engage and mold a program to your local challenges and global aspirations.

- Includes a full, 30-day accelerator program on a topic of the highest national priority
- Give you and your team the training, frameworks, tools, network, advice and support to help you build your own national accelerator program.

What local challenges are you facing?

Let's build your own national accelerator program, today.

What you need

- A single point-of-contact
- A team (3-10 people) who will run your National Accelerator Program on their own after 90 days
- A venue and location.
- Provide access to funding and/or investors for the program
- Access to political leaders and/or government institutions to help analyze the national economic situation and identify relevant growth industries
- A political ambition to launch and support new growth industries

What we bring

- A highly experienced team to design and run the accelerator.
- Help analyze and understand future growth areas for your country
- The full power of our global network of entrepreneurship experts, industry experts, academics, corporate partners, national and international funding bodies, international investor networks and beyond
- Direct access to the world's leading entrepreneurship hubs, including San Francisco, Seattle, London, Amsterdam, Berlin, Shanghai, Kuala Lumpur and more
- An international network of growth-minded hubs, clubs, accelerators, incubators, co-working spaces, research institutes, universities and government agencies
- Years of experience in running corporate strategy, innovation and entrepreneurship events worldwide
- Extensive experience working with national level political challenges, policies and programs

November 21 – December 15 // Stavanger, Norway

What will your first program focus on?

After 90 days, you will achieve:

- Running the first national 30-day accelerator program on a topic of high national importance
- Launched and scaled a number of new startups (5-50 companies, based on program design)
- Built national media attention on the importance of speed, acceleration in building national entrepreneurship programs
- Grow a strong network of global entrepreneurs and entrepreneurship experts
- Engaged investors, corporate partners and a wide number of people
- Trained a core team of people to run your future accelerator programs
- Laid a strong foundation in building a national culture for entrepreneurship and accelerated startups
- Implemented an important policy for future economic growth in new and emerging industries
